

WPA is broadening its impact

This issue of the WPA News reveals various promising latest activities of our organization. Many news items coming from the WPA components, as pieces of a great puzzle, construct our unity in diversity and mirror the broadening impact of WPA in improving the quality of our professional field.

Antoine Besse and Fini Schulsinger had passed away recently leaving us with deep sadness. Obituaries for them echo our appreciation to their contributions and international commitments.

Our Zonal Representatives not only inform us about their activities in their Zones but also demonstrate how inter-zonal collaborations could be rewarding. News from our Member Societies, especially from those of European and Asian societies in this case, besides from some of our Affiliated Societies, mirror various important scientific and organizational activities showing the wide influence of the WPA across the world. The scope and richness of the news informing us about the increasing activities of our Scientific Sections display how these sections really deserve to be entitled as the scientific backbone of our organization. I am sure you will also be delighted to read the report on the latest Educational Activities covering various topics of scientific interest and reaching all regions of the world. As usual, you will also have the chance of following details and roster of our future Scientific Meetings and a comprehensive list of all our Publications.

WPA is fully committed to raising awareness for a better mental health for all, for higher scientific and ethical standards in psychiatry, for better clinical practice and services, and efficient solidarity between professionals, users and carers. We are pleased to see the continuing interest of the WPA components in contributing to this process of reflecting the impact and richness of diversities in the WPA through its media channels.

Levent Küey
WPA News Editor
WPA Secretary General

Dear Colleagues and Friends from all regions of the world,

Pedro Ruiz

Once more, I am writing to all of you to report on all of the main WPA activities effectively implemented during the last trimester of 2012; that is, from July 1, 2012 to September 30, 2012. During this period, we continue to effectively implement our 2011-2014 WPA Action Plan.

In early July, I attended and represented the WPA in the committee which selected the person who received the "Lopez Ibor Award". This award was presented to Dr. Srinivasa Murthy, who delivered an excellent lecture during the award ceremony held in Prague, Czech Republic in October 17-21, 2012.

In August 30 to September 1, 2012, I represented the WPA as an invited lecturer in the XXII Annual Congress of the Peruvian Psychiatric Association. This outstanding Congress was held in Trujillo, Peru; I had the honor of becoming an Honorary Member of the Peruvian Psychiatric Association and delivering a lecture on "Stigma and the Profession of Psychiatry".

During the period of September 13-15, 2012, the entire WPA Executive Committee attended and organized, together with the Indonesian Psychiatric Association, a WPA Regional Meeting in Bali, Indonesia focusing on "Mental Health and Disaster: Beyond Emergency Response". Over 800 psychiatrists and mental health professionals from all over Asia attended and participated in this WPA sponsored event, especially young psychiatrists from this Asian Region. This scientific event clearly demonstrated the WPA's commitment towards the most needed regions of the world with respect to mental health needs. We were all very proud of this outstanding achievement and organizational success.

During the period of September 17-20, 2012, I was invited and represented the WPA in the 20th International Psychiatric Congress organized by the Association of Argentinian Psychiatrists (AAP). This event also represented the "XXXIX Jornadas Argentinas de Psiquiatría". In this Congress, I delivered a lecture on "Poverty as a Factor in Social Crisis and Human Disasters".

During the period of September 25-28, 2012, I was invited to attend and participate in the XVI National Congress of Psychiatry organized by the Spanish Society of Psychiatry, held in Bilbao, Spain. Our WPA Secretary for Education, Dr. Edgard Belfort, accompanied me on this occasion, as well as the Past President, Dr. Juan Jose Lopez-Ibor. The three of us conducted an Educational Forum, which was well attended and received.

It has been a wonderful opportunity for me during this last trimester, as WPA President, to have been involved in these numerous events on behalf of the WPA and the profession at large.

Cordially,

Pedro Ruiz, M.D.
WPA President (2011-2014)

■ OBITUARIES

Antoine Besse

Antoine BESSE left us suddenly on Monday, 8th of October 2012, struck by a massive heart attack at the end of a French Federation of Psychiatry business meeting which he was participating in as the President of the Section on Therapeutics.

For more than 32 years he had been actively involved in one of the most important French Association Member of WPA: the French Association of Private Practice Psychiatrists. He was also an active member of the National Union of Private Psychiatrists closely linked to this Association. He rapidly became one of the pillars of both these organizations reflecting his deep commitment to the enhancement of ethics and creativity in mental health care delivery.

Elected President of these organizations after the death of the Founder President, he led the organizations with great efficiency during his term of three years and was then elected Honorary President to represent these bodies in various International organizations and particularly WPA where he was a keen advocate of humanistic approach of psychiatry giving all the necessary space to the person of the patient, his subjectivity, and to the singularity of the therapeutic relation, its inter-subjective dimension. Appointed member of the WPA Nomination Committee during 2005-2008, Antoine was very active in the implementation of the electronic voting for the 2008 WPA General Assembly in Prague.

Actively involved in the attempt to unify French psychiatric representation in WPA, through the creation of the Association of the French Societies Members of WPA, he played also a crucial role in the Institutional Program of Person Centered Psychiatry and the organization of the Paris congress on this program in 2008. He was also one of the pillars of the extension of this movement into Person Centered Medicine through the annual Conferences on Person Centered Medicine held since 2008 in Geneva with the sponsorship of many important International Associations, and among them WHO, WMA, WONCA, etc.

In these tasks as in others he showed his hearty benevolence mixed with his rigorous dedication recognized by all. Psychoanalyst by training, he was also a student of Schneider in Lausanne. Thanks to the diversity of his training influences, he was always open to the various approaches in psychiatry and curious on every aspect in the field of psychiatry. With the same openness, he was deeply involved in the development of ALFAPSY (Federation of French speaking private psychiatrists he pushed to become a WPA affiliated association). Elected president of this international federation, he had just taken over the position from Paul Lacaze who founded it with his help nearly ten years ago. He had numerous projects for this association and was beginning to implement them with the quiet, friendly and active attitude that characterized him in everything.

For this and his many other talents, for his rare sense of friendship and loyalty, for his "panache" when needed, we miss him deeply. The best tribute we can pay to honor him is to carry on, in our practices as in our researches, the path he was tracing toward a creative psychiatry open to all dimensions involved in mental health, for what is after all our major stake: the constant attention to the patients and for him.

Finis Schulsinger

(7 January 1923 to 20 October 2012)

Finis Schulsinger is one of the Danish psychiatrists who has made Denmark most visible at the psychiatric world map - both thanks to his groundbreaking research and to his international commitment.

Finis Schulsinger graduated as a medical doctor in 1948, a graduation that was delayed due to his one and a half years in exile in Sweden during World War II. In 1957, he finished his psychiatric training, and in 1960 he was appointed - as the youngest consultant hitherto - as consultant at the Psychiatric Department at the Copenhagen Municipal Hospital. He remained in that position until 1988 and was a very dynamic and innovative head of the department that played a key role among generations of Danish psychiatrists.

From 1962 onwards he was the principal investigator for the Danish-American prospective cohort study of schizophrenia in close collaboration with Seymour Kety and later his adoption studies that became groundbreaking in the international exploration of the interaction between genetic, and environmental factors and the development of psychopathology; and his dissertation from 1977 on the topic received international recognition.

It was during this period that he carried out extensive research related to this interaction for the development of psychiatric disorders, e.g., schizophrenia and alcoholism frequently in close collaboration with Sarnoff A. Mednick and they were honoured with The Stanley R. Dean Research Award for research on schizophrenia. This research milieu is still active, not least thanks to the contribution of Josef Parnas, University of Copenhagen.

Finis Schulsinger created the Psychological Institute at the Psychiatric department at the Copenhagen Municipal Hospital - from 1991 Institute for Preventive Medicine - that established close research collaboration connection with several international institutions.

Finis Schulsinger was asked to be responsible for the development of a new psychiatric university department at Hvidovre Hospital in 1988 and he remained its head until his retirement in 1993. Here it was characteristic how zealously he tried to integrate psychiatry in the large somatic university hospital, Hvidovre Hospital. Finis Schulsinger was a professor of psychiatry at the University of Copenhagen from 1971-1993.

Finis Schulsinger had all through his career an international outlook and engagement. Following competitive elections he was at the World Congress of Psychiatry in Vienna in 1983 elected as Secretary General and during the period 1983-1989 he had a close partnership with the WPA President Costas Stefanis. It was during those years that the debate on political abuse of psychiatry reached its climax not least in relation to WPA membership of the former Soviet Union. Finis Schulsinger was a significant voice in the critique of any political abuse of psychiatry towards political dissidents, and he played a key role in the international debate.

As Secretary General he created a very well-functioning WPA secretariat at the Municipal Hospital, Copenhagen under the effective leadership of the WPA administrator Vibeke Munk. The WPA Secretariat played a decisive role in the further organizational development of WPA. And the many lively discussions around Finis Schulsinger's large white table contributed to that Denmark had a central position in a global psychiatric context.

One of Finis Schulsinger's many strengths was his ability to delegate responsibilities to younger colleagues. I recall with great gratitude how he gave some of us quite responsible tasks to perform in relation to the planning of the WPA Congress in Copenhagen in 1986.

He was a generous, warm, innovative, and untraditional leader. He gave us, his juniors, possibilities to grow and flourish, and he had an ability to create an environment around him characterized by the same outlook.

But Finis Schulsinger was not just involved in psychiatry. He was an ardent participant in the general public debate and contributed with numerous articles in daily papers, letters to the editors, etc. He was deeply involved in issues such as the rights of marginalized and excluded minorities and played an active role in Amnesty International. It was also characteristic that he was frequently interviewed in the public media as he was willing to respond to journalists and courageously give quite sharp points of view in a language easy to understand for non-psychiatrists.

In his last years he completely withdrew from public appearance and passed away at 89 years old.

■ INSTITUTE OF AUSTRALASIAN PSYCHIATRISTS

2012 Update

The town of Alice Springs is at the very centre of Australia. Its indigenous name is Mparnpwe, the literal meaning of which is “meeting place” as it was a traditional place of coming together for various regional indigenous groups at times of ceremonies.

It really lived up to its name for the recent Institute of Australasian Psychiatrists AGM and clinical meeting in March this year. It was held in the delightful botanic gardens planted with Australian native plants and inhabited by Australian fauna.

The theme “Psychiatry, the Law and Addiction” brought together people of many disciplines and experience - prison and probation officers, lawyers, general practitioners, social workers, nurses as well as psychiatrists and psychologists.

Highlights included a welcome to country by a traditional Arrente elder woman who is also a mental health worker. Although addiction as a psychological phenomenon was discussed, the subject of substance abuse was much to the fore.

Those with particular experience in working with foetal alcohol spectrum (FAS) included child and adolescent psychiatrists, drug and alcohol workers and legal practitioners, some of whom have international experience in the legal and forensic implications of those with FAS. Apart from nicotine, alcohol is the main substance of abuse in Australia and foetal alcohol spectrum is an ever-increasing problem.

Ways of mitigating, educating and preventing this scourge with its tragic consequences include regulating the quantity of alcohol drunk, price control and education. For those children affected, early diagnosis, treatment and non-punitively legal responses are essential.

Participants were uniformly enthusiastic about the benefits of sharing information and therapeutic experience.

3rd Young Psychiatrists’ Network – EFPT Meeting “Stigma from the YPs’ perspective: Hopes and Challenges” 27-29 September 2012, Minsk, Belarus

The Young Psychiatrists’ Network (YPN) is a rapidly growing movement of young and active psychiatrists from all over the world, eager to reunite psychiatric theory and practice and ensure transfer of knowledge between different psychiatric traditions. The aims of the Network include: creating a forum for communication and collaboration between young psychiatrists (YPs), facilitating the formation of an international YPs’ identity, and boosting the personal and professional growth of YPs worldwide. Activities of the network during the last few years have focused mainly on organizing annual meetings to achieve the aforementioned goals, this being the culmination of significant efforts throughout the year.

The 3rd YPN Meeting took place on 27-29th September 2012 in Minsk, Belarus. The meeting was titled “Stigma from the YPs’ perspective: Hopes and Challenges”. After inspiring lectures of world-known experts, participants had many opportunities to share their views on the issue of stigma during workshops and poster sessions. The emphasis of the meeting was to involve young colleagues as much as possible. The booklet with participants’ abstracts was also published. Service users made a contribution to the conference by exhibiting their paintings, the best being awarded with a prize.

The meeting was even more important because it was the first international psychiatric conference to be held in Belarus.

It was attended by 74 participants from 21 countries, and supported by the European Federation of Psychiatric Trainees (EFPT), Ministry of Health of the Republic of Belarus, Belarusian Medical Academy of Postgraduate Education (BelMAPGE) and Belarusian Psychiatric Association (BPA).

We are looking forward to the next meeting in Wroclaw (Poland) and invite YPs and other mental health professionals from around the world to join the network by registering on the Google groups and Facebook and contributing to the 4th YPN Meeting!

■ SUICIDOLOGY

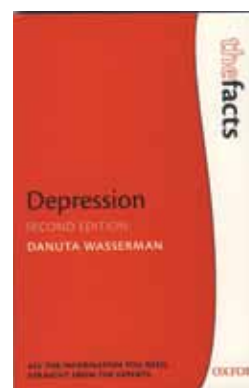

Depression: the facts, published by the Oxford University Press in 2011 (2nd edition, ISBN: 978-0-19-960293-3), has won the BMA Board of Science Award for the Public Understanding of Science on September 13, 2012 at the British Medical Association Book Awards in London. The book was chosen by the judging panel from all of the shortlisted books in all medical categories (approximately 100 books). The panel considered the book is very supportive in the promotion and public understanding of science. The book targets the general public and specifies a simple and comprehensive overview of depression. It provides practical insight for persons suffering from depression, as well as guidance for friends and families to help sufferers. Based on recent evidence, the book covers the identification of symptoms and causes of depression and potential treatment options.

The author of the book, Prof. Danuta Wasserman, is both the Chair and Head Psychiatrist at the National Swedish Centre for the Prevention of Suicide and Mental Ill-Health (NASP) at the Karolinska Institute (KI), Stockholm, Sweden. Prof. Wasserman is the Director of WHO Collaborating Centre for Research, Methods Development and Training in Suicide Prevention. She is a specialist in general psychiatry and suicidology. She currently holds the position of President-Elect for the European Psychiatric Association (EPA).

Prof. Danuta Wasserman also edited together with Anthropologist Camilla Wasserman The Oxford Textbook of Suicidology and Suicide Prevention: A Global Perspective, which is a milestone in the field of Suicidology, and is published by the Oxford University Press in 2009 (ISBN: 978-019-85700-59).

■ PSYCHIATRY, MEDICINE AND PRIMARY CARE

The Section on Psychiatry, Medicine and Primary Care will be presenting a symposium at the upcoming WPA International Congress in Prague on Diagnosis and Treatment of ADHD in Primary Care in collaboration with the Section on Education in Psychiatry. The Section is working on a grant submission to the US NIMH on Recognition and Treatment of Psychopathology in a Primary Care Setting in LMIC, and a project on Assessing Public Mental Health Literacy and Its Impact on Stigma and Public Funding. The Section has added three new members this year.

Chair, WPA Section on Psychiatry,
Medicine and Primary Care

■ DUAL DISORDERS/PATHOLOGY

The new WPA Section on Dual Disorders/Pathology is now fully operational with very active and enthusiastic participation of Section members. One of the major initial initiatives has been to issue an info-flyer (“10 basic points on dual Pathology: Addiction and other Mental illness”) in order to address the importance and misconceptions on Dual Disorders/Pathology for treatment planning, research across different settings, as well as to clarify the terminology confusion about the complex problem of the co-existence of an addictive disorder and an additional mental illness. The Section is also contributing in the forthcoming 14th National Congress of the Sociedad Española de Patología Dual to be held in Madrid, 25-28 October 2012, and will also be present at the XXVII Congress of the Asociación Psiquiátrica de America Latina (APAL), co-sponsored by WPA.

Active participation in future conferences and educational activities are being planned.

■ PSYCHOANALYSIS IN PSYCHIATRY

An Open Day

The Section organised a one-day conference in March 2012 at the Belle Idée psychiatric clinic on the theme: Why, how and for whom is inpatient psychoanalysis intended? There was a good turnout and the atmosphere was very convivial. The Section's Honorary President, Simon Daniel Kipman, also attended and made a strong appeal in his presentation, encouraging us to widen our deliberations to cover all the different aspects of medicine (see site: www.simon-daniel-kipan.com).

Several presentations were made in the morning by Prof. François Ansermet, Prof. Panteleimon Giannakopoulos, Prof. Bruno Gravier and other colleagues directly involved in treating patients, who shared their idea on expanding the field of psychotherapy in the broadest sense of the term. The fact is that all patients whoever they are and whatever their problems need a relational input. Nobody must be excluded. It is up to us to ensure that every patient, even those in the most difficult circumstances, can benefit from a specific relational input with a high psychotherapeutic value added. Putting it another way, it is important to maintain a link in which a special and personalised relationship is forged with the patient. In our view psychoanalysis is particularly suited to offer this dimension, thus providing added value to our clinical practice.

In the afternoon we were delighted to be able to visit the WPA Secretariat where we were very warmly received by Prof. Levent Küey, WPA Secretary General. This was followed by a visit to the Bodmer Foundation which has a collection of extremely rare books including one of the five copies of the Gutenberg Bible and other first editions of works both old and new (see their site: <http://fondationbodmer.ch>).

Seen in the photo are some of the members of the Section who visited the WPA Secretariat at the Belle Idée psychiatric clinic, together with Prof. Levent Küey and the Secretariat staff.

The Section participates actively in the many congresses organised by the WPA and we are always very pleased to establish links, to open a dialogue, to share our thoughts, so don't hesitate to contact us.

■ EXERCISE, PSYCHIATRY AND SPORTS

The Section on Exercise, Psychiatry and Sports presented at the Olympic Sports Medicine Congress in Glasgow, Scotland and Cambridge, England. Profs. Baron and Zhu gave a symposium on ADHD in Athletes, and Prof. Baron presented on Gene Doping and Neuropsychiatric Aspects of Mild TBI in Youth Athletes. The Section just completed a book, Contemporary Issues in Sports Psychiatry: A Global Perspective. The manuscript was endorsed by the WPA Executive Committee and will be published by Wiley Press, UK. The book was edited by David Baron, Claudia Reardon, and Steven Baron and chapter authors included many Section members representing eight countries. The Section has also welcomed seven new members from across the globe.

■ PSYCHIATRIC REHABILITATION

During the recently concluded WPA Regional Meeting held in Bali, Indonesia on September 13-15, 2012, the WPA Section on Psychiatric Rehabilitation organized a Symposium and also conducted a workshop.

The Workshop was conducted by Prof. Ignacio on "The Conduct of Psychosocial Processing - the core of direct psychological intervention for survivors of a disaster". The participants included psychiatrists, nurses, social workers, and counselors from Thailand, Indonesia, Sri Lanka and the Philippines. They went through the process as "survivors" of the flood, tsunami earthquake that struck their respective countries. At the end of the three-hour workshop all agreed that the "processing" gave them a sense of calmness and the realization that as psychosocial program implementers they need to have this "processing" program as part of their organization disaster management program.

The Section Symposium: Recovery and Well-being in the Aftermath of Disasters was chaired by Prof. L. Ignacio and had the following speakers:

- Prof. Lourdes L. Ignacio (Philippines) "The Human Person in Disaster: Promoting His Well-being"
- Dr. Albert Maramis (Indonesia) "The Impact of the Tsunami: 5 Years Hence"
- Dr. Tsuyoshi Akiyama (Japan) "The East Japan Disaster 3.11.2011"

- Dr. Afzal Javed (UK) and Dr Naseer Sayeed Khan (Pakistan) “Beyond the Kashmir Earthquake in Pakistan”

The Symposium served as the venue to present the long term perspective of the psychosocial rehabilitation program in the aftermath of disasters, giving concrete examples on how rehabilitation as part of mental health services could be integrated in the overall rehabilitation of a disaster affected areas.

Prof. Ignacio also presented a plenary lecture on “Disaster Mental Health Program as the Door to the Development of Community Mental Health Services”. This presentation highlighted the fact that the sensitivity gained from actual experiences in responding to the psychosocial reactions of survivors of disaster by community health and social workers and their subsequent training on mental health care in primary health care have led them to address the needs for treatment of those patients in the community especially the untreated chronic mentally ill patients. They have started to manage these patients, provide the necessary psychotropic medications and form a family support group to help these patients recover and be part not only of their families but their communities.

The WPA Section on Psychiatric Rehabilitation is chaired by Prof. Lourdes L Ignacio (Philippines), Dr. Tae-Yeon Hwang (Korea) is the Co-chair and the Secretary is Dr. Johannes Wancata from Austria.

■ HIV/AIDS PSYCHIATRY

It is an honor and pleasure to introduce the new WPA Section on HIV/AIDS Psychiatry. Our members are deeply appreciative of the enthusiastic support of Prof. Pedro Ruiz, WPA President and that of Prof. Afzal Javed, WPA Secretary for Sections. The goal of our Section is to raise awareness about HIV psychiatry as a global priority. AIDS may be similar to most severe and complex illnesses but AIDS is different because it is associated with stigma and discrimination and is an infectious illness that can be prevented by changes in behavior. Despite advances in the medical care of persons with HIV and AIDS, progress in prevention of HIV has lagged behind progress in the diagnosis and treatment of HIV. Worldwide, 33,200,000 persons are living with HIV and 2,600,000 persons each year are newly infected with HIV. Many persons who are infected with HIV lack access to care. Psychiatric disorders complicate and perpetuate HIV and add considerably to suffering, morbidity, and non-adherence to care.

Early diagnosis and treatment of HIV are vital for health and survival as well as for prevention of one of the complications of HIV infection, HIV-associated dementia. We know that as a WPA Section, our 310 members will be able to expand our global educational outreach efforts. Learn more about the work of our section at www.apm.org/signs/oap.

■ EVOLUTIONARY PSYCHIATRY

During the past year we have been happy to contribute to the following:

Wilson, DR and Price, JS (2011) Male philopatry, female entrapment, and sex difference in the incidence of depressive illness. Invited chapter for a volume produced by the University of Athens Press in honour of Professor George Christodoulou, Honorary President, Hellenic Psychiatric Association; President, Psychiatric Association for Eastern Europe and the Balkans; Honorary Fellow, World Psychiatric Association. Athens: University of Athens Press. Pp. 36-41.

Also one of us has been able to celebrate one of the pioneers of psychiatric epistemology. Gregory Bateson was the son of William Bateson, one of the re-discoverers of Mendel, who had an interest in symmetry in biology. The son had an interest in symmetry in relationships, and defined a symmetrical relation as one in which aggression was met with aggression, whereas in a complementary relationship aggression is met with appeasement. Also Bateson was influential in replacing linear thinking with systemic thinking, providing an epistemological base for family therapy:

■ CLASSIFICATION, DIAGNOSTIC ASSESSMENT AND NOMENCLATURE

One of the main activities of the Section in the last months has been the promotion of the Revision of the Latin American Guide for Psychiatric Diagnosis (GLADP-VR) to be published in the near future. This ICD-10 base guide integrated in 2004 the use of operational diagnostic criteria and a multi-axial system with annotated Latin-American statements. The upcoming revisions of the ICD-11 and DSM-V have given the opportunity to promote the revision of GLADP with the primary aim of updating the Latin American annotations of psychiatric diagnosis and integrating the person-centered diagnostic model. Fifteen out of 20 Latin American psychiatric societies accepted to collaborate in the current revision. The utility and relevance of GLADP was examined through a survey among work groups' members on the original GLADP and suggestions for the GLADP-VR. Forty two out of 158 psychiatrists responded to the survey: 81% were familiar with GLADP, 78% considered it easy to use, 90% felt it was adequate as a Latin American adaptation of the ICD-10, 71% considered it useful for clinical work, 59%, 81% and 62% considered it satisfactory for community care, teaching and research respectively, 81% considered it to be accurate, reflecting the patient's clinical condition. Qualitative analyses emphasized that GLADP considers an integrative and personalized view of diagnosis which take into account cultural issues. The integration of person-centered comprehensive diagnostic formulations in clinical practice is considered crucial for an adequate clinical care.

■ CHILD AND ADOLESCENT PSYCHIATRY

Report from the WPA Regional Meeting “Mental Health and Disaster: Beyond Emergency Response” Bali, Indonesia, September 13-15, 2012

It has been extremely heartening to have taken part in the WPA Regional Meeting in Bali as a Child and Adolescent Psychiatrist given the prominence given to child and adolescent mental health topics, lectures and workshops. The meeting was held in the beautiful setting of Nusa Dua in Bali and was led by Prof. Pedro Ruiz, President of the WPA in collaboration with Dr. Tun Kurniasih Bastaman, President of the Indonesia Psychiatric Association.

This Regional meeting attracted psychiatrists from the South East Region of Asia, an area of extreme need where: “during the last two decades natural and man made disasters have become a major humanitarian concern” (Welcome message from Dr. Tun K Bastaman, President Indonesian Psychiatric Association).

In addition to meeting many colleagues from the Region and attending a rich scientific and educational programme there was also the opportunity to meet members of the WPA Executive Committee and take part in the WPA Forum. One was able at first hand to hear a summary of each of the Executive Member’s activities and achievements. There was also the opportunity to present the main objectives of the WPA Child and Adolescent Psychiatry (CAP) Section to the Executive and to lobby for an even greater presence of child and adolescent psychiatry topics and activities at future WPA conferences and activities.

For it could safely be said that almost every adult psychiatric condition has its antecedents in childhood mediated through heritability, developmental trajectories and environmental influences. Even conditions associated with post-pubertal onset such as schizophrenia and classical bipolar disorder will show atypical features in childhood. Where epidemiological data exists we know that more than a third of all adult disorders start in childhood and adolescence and there is evidence that 75% of some psychiatric disorders of adulthood begin before the age of 24 (Kessler National Co-morbidity study).

It is therefore necessary to continue to raise the number of CAP contributions to the activities of WPA with an emphasis on prevention and intervention in young people. This was the key message put across to the WPA Executive.

Besides, unique beauties and cultural heritage of Istanbul as well as other cities and regions of Turkey are excellent additional incentives to visit Turkey and attend this congress.

■ WPA PUBLICATIONS: BOOKS AND JOURNALS

Michelle B. Riba
WPA Secretary for Publications

The WPA publications program seeks to promote the goals of the World Psychiatric Association and specifically to: 1) disseminate information about clinical, service and research developments in the mental health field to the largest possible number of psychiatrists and health professionals across the world; 2) promote and give visibility to good quality research carried out in low and middle income countries. These goals are pursued through publishing the official journal of the WPA, World Psychiatry, publishing books on topics relevant to the ethical and successful practice of modern psychiatry, and supporting psychiatric journals in low- and middle-income countries. I sincerely appreciate the opportunity to serve in this important position and look forward to the leadership and vision of Professor Pedro Ruiz and the Executive Committee, Board, Member Societies, allied groups and colleagues of the WPA to further the work of our publications group. I am deeply indebted to the hard work, dedication and success of my predecessor, Professor Helen Herrman, who did such a wonderful job in her previous role as Secretary for Publications.

I also sincerely appreciate the opportunity to work with our new Operational Committee on Scientific Publications whose members include: Michelle B. Riba (Chair); Carmen Leal (Co-chair); Alfredo Cia (Member); Linda Lam (Member); Zvi Zemishlany (Member).

World Psychiatry, edited by WPA Past President Prof. Mario Maj, is a high quality

journal of international mental health, disseminated to all countries and distributed to psychiatrists and other mental health professionals worldwide. It is now produced in English, Spanish, Chinese, Russian, French, Arabic, and Turkish languages, and in partial translation in Romanian. The journal is indexed by Medline, Current Contents and the Science Citation Index. Full articles and abstracts from its inception in January 2002 are available online through Medline/Pubmed and the WPA website. Its third ISI impact factor, released in June 2011 is 5.562, ranking it among the top ten of psychiatric journals. The WPA Bulletin on Depression is edited by Prof. Driss Moussaoui as education for primary care doctors and residents in psychiatry. Two issues are published each year in five different languages.

The series Evidence and Experience in Psychiatry is a highly successful publishing venture that compares research evidence and clinical experience concerning the diagnosis and management of the most common mental disorders. Each volume covers a specific mental disorder, with a set of systematic reviews of the research evidence, each followed by commentaries produced by psychiatrists from various countries and representing different schools of thought. Ten volumes now exist, several in second or third edition and several translated into various languages including Russian, Spanish, Portuguese, Italian and Turkish. The volume on Substance Abuse Disorders was published in December 2010, and Trauma and Mental Health in June 2011. The series *Anthologies of International Psychiatric Texts (Series Director D. Moussaoui) and Anthologies Online includes classical texts produced by psychiatrists of a given country or group of countries published in English for the first time, accompanied by essays on their authors. Electronic versions are now available through the WPA website and link to Wiley-Blackwell Interscience. A new Anthology of Greek texts was just released at the WPA meeting in Buenos Aires in September 2011, and will hopefully be translated into Spanish. The series *Images of Psychiatry illustrates the depth and breadth of experience in psychiatry around the world.

■ The British Medical Association Book Awards 2012

We are pleased to announce that three WPA books were Highly Commended in the Psychiatry section of the BMA Book Awards 2012.

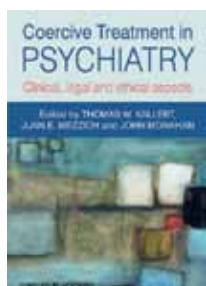

Substance Abuse Disorders: Evidence and Experience by Hamid Ghodse, Helen Herrman, Mario Maj and Norman Sartorius and Community Mental Health: Putting Policy Into Practice Globally by Graham Thornicroft, Atalay Alem, Robert E. Drake, Hiroto Ito, Jair Mari, Peter McGeorge, R. Tara, Maya Semrau, , and Coercive Treatment in Psychiatry: Clinical, legal and ethical aspects, by Thomas W. Kallert, Juan E. Mezzich and John Monahan.

Substance Abuse Disorders informs psychiatrists and a wide range of professional groups from health and social services about substance abuse disorders and their treatment and control. The book was recognised for its “evidence-based approach, complemented by commentaries imparting clinical experience, setting it apart from standard texts on the subject”. The BMA commended the book for being both well written and very readable, heralding it as “a successful amalgamation of the knowledge of leading researchers in specific fields by asking the relevant experts to head up particular chapters”.

Community Mental Health reviews the implementation of community-orientated mental health care using the balanced care model. The book won praise from the BMA for producing a “treasure trove of information covering the seven WHO regions” and acknowledged the book as the first of its kind to bring together information about mental health services throughout the world. The BMA declared “its major strength lies in bringing together information from many diverse sources and showing that each has the same gaps and obstacles”.

Coercive Treatment in Psychiatry: Clinical, legal and ethical aspects was also Highly Commended for being a “ground-breaking books that presents a comprehensive review of the issue of coercion in psychiatry”. The first three sections deal with the conceptual and clinical aspects of coercive treatment, the legal aspects and the ethical aspects of coercive treatment. In detail, these sections cover a broad spectrum of issues: coercion in institutions and in the community, coercive treatment and stigma, the definition of best practice standards for coercive treatment, de-escalation of risk situations, recent developments in mental health legislation, mental health care and patients’ rights, cross-cultural perspectives on coercive treatment, historical injustice in psychiatry, and paternalism in mental health. The fourth section features users’ views on coercive treatment: giving voice to an often-unheeded population. Finally, the book addresses the original topic of coercion and undue influence in decisions to participate in psychiatric research.

Its website is currently visited from almost all countries across the world and the WPA News is widely disseminated. Various educational programmes and series of books had been produced including an E-Learning long distance programme. World Psychiatry, the WPA official journal, could be freely downloaded from PubMed Central and the WPA website (www.wpanet.org).

What are its Aims?

The core missions of the WPA include the following:

- To encourage the highest possible standards of clinical practice
- To increase knowledge and skills about mental disorders and how they can be prevented and treated
- To promote mental health
- To promote the highest possible ethical standards in psychiatric work
- To disseminate knowledge about evidence-based therapy and values based practice
- To be a voice for the dignity and human rights of the patients and their families, and to uphold the rights of psychiatrists
