

Document Title: Working Group:
Implementing Alternatives to
Coercion in Mental Health Care

Document Type: Short bio

Author:

Date Created: 16 April 2021

Paul S. Appelbaum

Paul S. Appelbaum, M.D. is the Elizabeth K. Dollard Professor of Psychiatry, Medicine, and Law, and Director, Center for Law, Ethics and Psychiatry, Department of Psychiatry, Vagelos College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia University; a Research Psychiatrist at the NY State Psychiatric Institute; and an affiliated faculty member, Columbia Law School. Dr. Appelbaum is Past President of the American Psychiatric Association (APA) and of the American Academy of Psychiatry and the Law. He has been elected to the U.S. National Academy of Medicine. Dr. Appelbaum is a graduate of Columbia College, received his M.D. from Harvard Medical School, and completed his residency in psychiatry at the Massachusetts Mental Health Center/Harvard Medical School in Boston.